Specific conditions relating to notices and disputes

I may ask my bank to reverse a direct debit up to 120 calendar days after the debit if:

- I don't receive a written notice of the amount and date of each direct debit from the initiator, or
- I receive a written notice but the amount or the date of debiting is different from the amount or the date specified on the notice.

For a series of direct debits, the initiator is required to give a written notice of the amount and date of each direct debit in the series no less than 10 calendar days before the date of the first direct debit in the series. The notice is to include:

- the dates of the debits, and
- the amount of each direct debit,
- if the initiator proposes to change an amount of a direct debit specified in the notice, the initiator is required to give you notice no less than 30 calendar days before the change.

If you have specifically requested direct debits and have agreed the amount of the direct debit, the initiator is required to give you a written notice of the amount and date of the direct debit no later than the date of the debit.

If the bank dishonours a direct debit but the initiator sends the direct debit a second time within 5 business days of the original direct debit, the initiator is not required to notify you a second time of the amount and date of the direct debit.
